Vision and mission:

To make DNotes the trusted and inclusive digital currency to gain mass adoption in global commerce.

To achieve this goal, we have laid out a strategic path that includes a fully integrated business ecosystem. The company's mandate is to manage each business unit with a mindset that emphasizes being the 'best in class', focusing on those businesses and partnerships that are best aligned with our philosophy to help bring the DNotes digital currency and blockchain solutions into the mainstream.

Company facts:

The company has responsibility for developing DNotes digital currency and is about to release an upgraded version of the currency (DNotes 2.0) in early April. The upgrade will see DNotes holders receive 0.5% monthly in blockchain based interest on all funds held at our internal web-wallet (6% annualized), and an additional ~2% payout for supporting the network through a probability-based 'staking reward'.

The company supports the DNotes currency with 25% of its initial equity (subject to dilution).

The company has created a business ecosystem to support and enhance DNotes utility and value, by building business properties that help connect the currency to the financial world and create value for the company's investors. Revenue from the ecosystem is used to fund further expansion of both the currency and business ecosystem.

Author, Strategist, Entrepreneur, Visionary, Technology & Computing Pioneer, Alan Yong, is committed to bringing the advantages of digital currency to everyday consumers by executing winning strategies that he has implemented and refined over his 45 year entrepreneurial career. Alan has experience in nascent industries, having created the DTR, the world's first personal tablet computer in the early 1990's as founder and CEO of Dauphin - a company best known for winning a $400m contract with the Pentagon and $150m manufacturing agreement with IBM. Alan is also the co-founder of Smokeys Gardens, one of the largest daylily growers in the world.

Alan draws from this experience to create the necessary winning strategies to bring his vision of a stable globally-accepted digital currency to fruition. To do this, he co-founded an ecosystem centered on "DNNotes", a second-generation Bitcoin alternative digital currency. The DNNotes-centric ecosystem includes DNNotesVault, and a series of self-directed investment plans that encourage savings for different age demographics called CRISPS. The ecosystem also contains several currency-neutral web properties: Cryptomoms.com to encourage female participation in the industry, and DCEBrief - a news website that provides industry stakeholders with timely news and opinion, delivered in executive summary format.

Alan is outspoken in his belief that digital currency has the potential to facilitate instant global trade at near-zero cost, allow private citizens to act as their own bank, insulate private wealth from local political turmoil, and stabilize the world economy. In his view, digital currency is the greatest technological revolution since the internet, with the potential for creating massive job growth and wealth for people around the world.

Alan received his MBA from Northern Illinois University in 1976, having previously been awarded a full YMCA scholarship in 1971 to study an undergraduate degree in Behavioral Science.
